From the Editor's Desk

Dear Readers

The global health pandemic, Covid-19 has shined a harsh light on the vulnerabilities and challenges humanity faces, chief among them is addressing the education of more than 1.5 billion students whose learning has been hampered due to school closures. Hence our common humanity necessitates global solidarity.

We cannot accept the levels of inequality that have been permitted to emerge on our shared planet. It is particularly important that the world supports developing countries with investment in 21st century education infrastructures. At the same time, it's high time we keep all kinds of man-made disasters such as wars, environment contamination, cyber-attacks, terrorism, etc at bay. Now is the time for intelligent collective action.

Happy Reading!
