16.2.3 Identify and Engage with Local Stakeholders

Sri Sri University takes pride in reaching out to the villagers of the nearby areas and helping them meet their needs related to health care, education, and employment. The department of Osteopathy regularly conducts camps for the people living near the campus. The Ayurveda hospital has become a boon for the villagers, who otherwise had to travel a long distance for quality medical facility. The Faculty of Agriculture has been constantly engaging with the local farmers to improve their yield and productivity, while also learning from their experiences.

During the Covid period too, the university led from the front and helped the patients of nearby areas by setting up a 100 bedded Ayurveda hospital.
