11.4.9 Building on brownfield sites

The Sri Sri University was a rocky barren land a decade back and has been turned into a Green paradise. It is a magnificent sprawling campus of 188 acres of quarry land, offering both residential and non-residential facilities. Located in a disused quarry, the university is conceived as clusters of minimalistic structures amid trees, shrubs, and well-laid out lawns provides a serene ambiance. Keeping with the motto of an ecologically sensitive green campus all the building structures have been strategically constructed in the low lying quarry land to minimize further damage to the site.
