SDG 8: DECENT WORK AND ECONOMIC

8.2.4 Does your university as a body have a policy commitment against forced labour, modern slavery, human trafficking, and child labour?

Plate - 1

Description:

Sri Sri University strictly complies with the UGC criteria and State Government of Odisha, which creates clear criteria for the assurance of labor rights and the welfare of the workers. The university has formed grievance committee for all employees to ensure that all complaints made by any employee are addressed and to protect the labor rights of all employees (Nationals and International Staff).

The CHILD LABOR (PROHIBITION AND REGULATION) ACT, 1986 (61 of 1986) is a highly regulated act that forbids child labor in the Union of India. It is important to protect children from being exploited in the workplace and to ensure that they have the opportunity to receive an education and develop their full potential.

The fact that the grievance committee for all employees directly reports to the university president shows that the university is committed to resolving all issues quickly and fairly. This is important for creating a positive and productive work environment for all employees.

SDG 8: DECENT WORK AND ECONOMIC

Sri Sri University's commitment to labor rights and the welfare of its employees. This is a role model for other educational institutions in India and around the world.

Activities

The university is aware that the family's younger members were compelled to approach the child labour as a result of the economic difficulties. The institution has established Gurukul for the children of low-income families, in order to pair underage children with a family member who earns a high income.

A synergy of the old Indian heritage of Vedic wisdom is reflected in the Sri Sri Gurukul, which was established on the premises of the Sri Sri University. Samveda, Atharveda, and Yajurveda are taught to the students at the Gurukul, across the country. The students come from marginalized homes. In order to achieve a true blend of traditional education and modern tools, they are also taught the general curriculum.

The SSU students actively instruct the Gurukul students in general themes. In Gurukul, the ideologies and traditions of the east and west are harmoniously combined. Housing, meals, tuition, books, supplies, clothing, and other expenses are all paid for by the university.
