Description:

The farmers and other stakeholders in agriculture and food processing were the focus of various activities carried out by the Faculty of Agriculture at Sri Sri University. Additionally, the knowledgeable teaching staff contributes to the creation of the content (leaflets) and the various levels at which the farmers are informed. Additionally, the Faculty of Agriculture hosts faculty development programs and webinars for various stakeholders in the fields of agriculture and related fields with the assistance of other departments. All of these initiatives benefit farmers and other stakeholders in the agricultural sector and related fields both directly and indirectly. Various guest lectures, faculty development programmes, workshops, seminars and webinars are conducted in the university (Plate 1).
